Angelique has has many dance partners including Lanre Adjani, Moe Flex, Fadi K, & Simon Lord Bachata, she created her own all female dance group named Seraphim in 2005 and they have performed all over Europe, she also danced professionally with Otradance, leaving the UK for places like Marrakech and Bahrain, to teach and perform.

A ladies technique and styling class has been taught by her at Bar Salsa weekly for many years helping the young lady of Lindero and female dancers to see dancing may not be one of those often the ladies are enough in motion, improve the one of those salsa moments that help them to surpass the man they feel may have reached and tells me, "dancing is so much a passion of mine and I put together a corporate studio and professional."
