Here are 10 benefits to hiring a Virtual Assistant

VAs offer flexibility – they are available outside of normal hours, have no minimum hour commitment and are only paid for the hours they work.

VAs are trusted to take such tasks as your business, saving confidential business information, taking your mind off their own business, allowing you to use your time highly skilled professional time you outsource work. You get the time you do need without leaving your home, someone else's work will be completed to perfection and delivered on time – or ahead of time.

Your VA will work closely with you to achieve seamless perfection of your projects – no one will ever know it wasn't completed in-house!

No HR headaches like tax, national insurance or employee benefits. Employees and temps are paid by you for coffee breaks, toilet visits and time taken for personal calls and issues.

VAs work from their own offices so you won't have to organise workspace or equipment for them.
