We're a team of CV writers and career coaches steeped in HR and front-line global recruitment. We're also a member of Association for Coaching, CIPD certified and a member of NCTL.

We offer free CV reviews, and constructive feedback about where your CV is potentially failing. If you agree with our professional assessment, we can move to setting up a free 30-minute consultation. This can be done by phone, Skype or if you prefer, we can email you what we need and you can reply accordingly.

The next stage is building you a file that captures the target readers' imagination (not your imagination) and meets their mental must haves; alongside the critical Job description's roles and responsibilities and person specification.

You can visit our website and www.jfcareerconsulting.com and go to the CV Writing page and download the CV writing options.

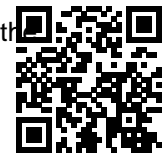

For all visitors to Friday Ad, no matter what level you are in your career, or what role you are delivering, the CV development is just £52.00.

If you need a cover letter or LinkedIn profile development, it will be £74.00, and for all three it will be £83.00, now we are charging significantly more; as shown on our website, but there are those out there that cannot afford it, so we're testing the waters, and hope to gain your trust.

Turnaround times - for the CV is 5-7 days, if you want a cover letter, LinkedIn profile or personal statement, add an additional 3 days, but generally, we normally deliver the 1st draft file within these timelines.

We also provide interview coaching; the CV should get you to the table, but what if you flunk the interview? If you need this support, please just ask, and we will discuss the process.
