A website is a place on the World Wide Web that contains information about a person, organization etc and that usually consists of many web pages joined by hyperlinks. While a blog is a website on which someone writes about personal opinions, activities, and experiences. With a website, the pages tend to be more static in nature. For example, a business website might have a home / welcome page, about us page, products and services page, and a FAQs page, all of which remain unchanged for months at a time.
