Set within spectacular countryside on the edge of the Cairngorms National Park, the Old Station House is located close to the Dava Way, a popular Grantown on Spey to Forres walking trail. The area is a haven for wildlife, with red deer, squirrels and golden eagles being some of the animal inhabitants and there are many outdoor sporting pursuits available within the Cairngorms National Park such as hill walking, climbing, mountain biking, ski-ing, wind surfing and golfing amongst others, as well as deer stalking, grouse shooting and salmon fishing. The property, formerly the Station Masters house and waiting room for Dava Station, is set in an idyllic location within woodland, tucked away off the A940 Grantown on Spey to Forres road. Set within approximately 1 acre of landscaped garden grounds, it has been sympathetically renovated and extended, including double glazing, oil fired central heating and oak flooring, to create a comfortable family home. Also located within the garden is a traditional Scandinavian log cabin, offering further accommodation or income potential. Grantown on Spey is approximately 8 miles distant and Forres is approximately 12 miles where amenities and shopping facilities can be found. Grantown has both primary and secondary schools and the excellent Craig Maclean leisure/community centre (named after Grantown's Olympian cyclist). The highland capital of Inverness is approximately 35 minutes drive away. The Old Station House offers the discerning purchaser a home of character with modern facilities and the opportunity to live 'the good life', yet be within commuting distance of local facilities. There are so many different delightful features in this property - too many to list - only by viewing can these be appreciated. Arrange your viewing today! INCLUDED: Fitted carpet, curtains and light fittings. Kitchen appliances. Timber log cabin, summer house, garage and shed. Other items available by separate negotiation. A Home Report is available for this property - please log on to: Reference No: HP355032 Postcode: PH26 3PU Energy Performance Certificate Rating: E COUNCIL TAX Currently Band C (£1405 p.a. 2015 - 2016), includes water rates.
