Fender Squier Esprit electric Guitar, Limited Edition, Gorgeous Squier Esprit available for sale, semi-hollow mahogany, set-neck construction (neck is not bolted on), courtesy of Fender's Custom Shop. It has beautifully resonant tone. The only reason I haven't been playing it is because it's too heavy for me. It is truly a shame for it to sit unplayed. As per Ultimate-Guitar.com: There are only a limited number made. It was only made for 1 year. It has 22 frets and a medium neck with a rosewood fretboard. It is a semi hollowbody guitar with a carved top. The top half of the body is a Les Paul Double Cut and the bottom half is a ES-335. It has a chrome Gibson style tuneomatic bridge with stopbar. The pickups are active Seymour Duncan designed and made by Fender. They are 2 humbuckers with a volume and tone control for each and a 3 way selector. Tuners are Standard Fender tuners. The Esprit can go from jazz to blues to rock very easily. It has a unique bell like tone when both pickups are selected. The tone is full when both pickups are selected although you can thin it out using the tone control. It has no problem playing Santana, AC/DC, Cream, U2, Aerosmith and many other bands. It can be used for a huge variety of styles. £250.00.,.
