Personal Computer Trainer, An innovative experiment to develop and evaluate a personal computer training program to teach older adults to access and use computer, internet, smart phones and apps, computer applications, knowledge of installation from basic to advance level. From the training, all participants will start using these advance technologies without any trouble or getting stuck in the middle of the task. Another Internet benefit is that older adults can also use the Internet search engine to find high quality health and medical information and further guidance. This facility is mostly common in academic programs, organisations, public libraries and universities but they have their fixed time and I am providing these services at your house and the time you decide. This is my idea to start a business and help all those who find difficulties in using computers or mobile smart phones. About me: I am fully qualified with 10 years of experience in computers windows PC 4 years experience of mac Laptops, 5 years of experience of mobile smart phones, 4 years of experience in programming applications, softwares, games, websites for iPhones, windows phone, android phone. I have previously also taught 5 older adults and we had a very good teaching sessions, and today they are all capable of doing task by themselves for e.g, using computer, Laptops, surfing internet, downloading and uploading, emailing, installing, deleting, using Microsoft Office, saving files, Having a Skype call, sending and receiving pictures, etc., Coventry,.
