24 Band "Sound Effect Amplifier" from around the 1970's in very clean condition and working order. These were very popular among Hi Fi enthusiasts and are still much sought after today. This one cost £400 when new, with sellers asking between £150 and £200 on Ebay, but asking and getting are two very different things and I believe the price I am asking is fair. So if you are into Hi Fi and like to "Tailor" the sound for recording onto Tape CD'S or any other recording medium have a go with this and have fun. I can demonstrate if anyone cares to have a listen. I would prefer collection but would consider sending by "myHermes" courier service at.
