NOISE (The National Organisation of Installation and Service Engineers) was formed in 2009 bringing together the best Manufacturers Authorised Service Centres across the UK and Ireland for Consumer Electronics and was and still is the only network of its kind.

By offering a unique 'One Stop Shop' for all service requirements with direct access into the job management systems of all our service providers we very quickly built up a large customer base of both direct consumers and trade customers including manufacturers, retailers and extended warranty providers.

Due to the success of this we have now rolled out this concept to other industries including Domestic Appliances and Aerial, Satellite and CCTV and plan to expand this further in the coming.
