Universal stainless steel plate for router bench. This plate for router bench, made of SAE 304 stainless steel, measures 305x229x6 mm, is compatible with the most popular routers. It is an essential tool to achieve the highest possible precision of your router bench. To verify if your router is compatible with the plate, it has to have the mounting holes at not less than 53mm of radius from the centre of the router. With the router plate, four (4) aluminium rings are included. These are the best choice to guarantee safety during work. On demand is available a pre-drilled plate for CMT7E and FREUD FT2200 VCE routers. The shipments from Italy to UK costs 21£.
