Have you always wanted to make your own guitar? Forget the Buy-the-Bits-Bolt-it-Together-Brigade and learn woodworking skills which will allow you to create your own guitar from scratch. One to one tuition in stringed instrument making by former tutor at West Dean college. David Simmons is a qualified luthier with experience in teaching and making a range of stringed instruments. In a central Worthing workshop with hours to suit you personally you can choose the style of instrument, preferred woods and finish that you would like to see on your own work. You can learn basic woodworking skills or build on your existing knowledge to develop your own.
