2005 Volkswagen Passat TDI, manual gearbox, diesel, MOT until June 2016, in excellent condition. It has 146,000 miles with full service history, much of it done at the dealership, and has had a recent timing belt change. This is a family owned car so safety has been our priority, it has good tyres, the rear are Continentals, good brakes and the car runs really well. There are no warning lights on the dash and the electrics are in good shape, the windows, AC, 2 remote locks, stereo and door locks are all in good order. The bodywork is also in great shape apart from a small ding above the passenger side wheel. The interior is in nice condition with no rips or holes, and generally the car has been well cared for since new. We are selling because my wife wants to drive an automatic. This Passat is comfortable and reliable and feels very solid for those looking for a quality safe.
