I had 500 negatives in the loft. Most of them were over 50 years old, and a pain to look at or show people. I bought these 2 identical scanners off ebay. I had researched these and decided just to buy second hand, as new negative scanners, that scan medium format negatives were around £150 each, and as I was only going to use them once, an unnecessary expense. These worked extremely well, and I now have all the negatives on my laptop, saved and available to print or send to friends/relatives... These still sell on ebay for around £70 each...I have one boxed with instructions, software, psu and all frames (for various negative sizes) and one with identical bits but no box...I am selling them separately. This model scanner also scans documents etc as a normal scanner does. Both in good condition, and perfect working.
