Hello! I am currently studying Media Practice as a third year student at the University of Sussex and along with two other group members are seeking to find a couple who are planning on having an Indian wedding between January - April 2016. We would like to make a short creative documentary that will include the build up to the wedding and the wedding itself. In return for this, we will provide a free extensive wedding video for the couple. If you you know of anyone interested or would like to see any of our previous documentaries then please do get in contact. I look forward to hearing from.
