Romans are proud to offer this exceptional 2004 Ferrari 360 Challenge Stradale for sale presented in 'Nero Daytona' with Tessuto Racing Nero/Rosso. The Challenge Stradale combines breath-taking pace, style and driveability in a very compelling package. Partly developed by Michael Schumacher, the Challenge Stradale was Ferrari's answer to the Porsche 911 GT3. It's lighter, more powerful and exclusive than the 360 Modena on which the car is based. Producing an astonishing 420bhp from its 3.5 litre naturally aspirated V8 engine, the 360 CS accelerates from 0 to 62 mph in just 4 seconds and reaches a top speed of 186mph. At the time of production this engine was the most powerful normally aspirated V8 the company had ever built, producing 117bhp per litre. Furthermore, the Challenge Stradale was fitted with launch control, titanium suspension which is 20 percent stiffer than the standard car and aerodynamic modifications to the carbon composite floorpan to improve stability at speed. The car featured a revised induction and exhaust and improved gearbox software which made the gear changes a lot slicker and swifter. The CS was also fitted with an uprated brake system using carbon ceramic discs and pads for the first time on an eight cylinder Ferrari. Further unique differences to the car included its stylish lightweight alloys, low ride height and the hand painted racing stripe along the body. The 360 CS is praised for its urgency and response to driver inputs, razor sharp steering and coupeld with its stunning exhaust note; makes this Ferrari one of the all-time great cars in the world to drive.
