Women photography is an art that goes beyond the production of charming images. It's a celebration of women insight, courage and beauty. During our portrait session, women share not only their outer appearance, but they expose their most vulnerable sides and embark into a journey of acceptance and self-discovery. As boudoir photographers, other than developing a relationship with the subject and make her feel at ease, we need to interpret and anticipate her desires.

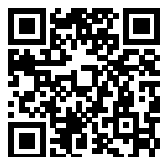

We need to tune into the subject's psychology and gently guide her during the session with tact, respect and fun. Mastering the light in all conditions and seeing a shot before it's taken, are crucial skills we matured through years of experience. During this course we will share our knowledge with you.

We will look into the most technical aspects of a photo shoot and learn how to master the light as well as understanding how to stimulate emotions to create eloquent images and an unforgettable experience for her. This workshop will enable you to learn how to combine the technical and interpersonal skills required to achieve professional.
