

Mindfulness Course

Mindfulness Meditation course

Mindfulness meditation has been proven of benefit in all aspects of life especially at developing a sense of well being and managing stress and anxiety. It is a practice that is now mainstream in the NHS and used by almost every major organisation with its origins dating back to Buddhist practice. Here at the Jethavana Buddhist Vihara we offer this free of charge, it is completely secular and taught by highly experienced teachers who not only live their lives in Mindfulness and compassion but have trained to teach this over many years.
