First picture is to demonstrate the similarity to the bed frame for sale. The only difference is that the headboard and foot end have the extra ornate piece of wood down the centre, as you can see in the next picture. It's Old Pine - double bed frame currently dismantled, so you cannot see the bed whole. However, the headboard and foot end is the style I have pictures here on my ad. High headboard, lower foot end, are shown in the 2nd picture.

Original THICK individual wood for base, is shown in the 3rd picture. The wood attaches to the base frame using screws to hold them in their place. This bed frame could be painted, waxed, or left just as it is. I reply to emails.
