Absolutely lovely Bristle-Nosed Pleco Catfish, the best algae eaters there are, very fish friendly and would suit all community tanks, easy to keep and doesn't grow to big (4-6 inches). They keep the glass spotless and will eat almost anything (very fond of cucumber!). I am very fond of these as they were born in my tank and I have reared them since, unfortunately I now have 40 of these and they need more space. I have fish of all sizes for sale but would like to know from buyers where they would be kept so I can be sure they are suitable. The Bristle-Nosed Pleco is usually sold for between £10- £25 but I am happy to offer mine a bit cheaper in the knowledge they will go to a good!
