This is a Honda Bali 100cc which has only 2600 genuine miles on the clock. I bought this in 2013 from the original 1st owner when it had 1250 miles on it. I used it for commuting purposes for a year then put it in the garage as I no longer needed it. I have now decided to clear out the garage and so it must go. I have replaced the brake pads (although they did not need it) and put new tyres on as I felt they were cracking with being unused. The body is in excellent condition, but the exhaust only is showing slight rust (same as a 2/3yr old bike) but does not need replacing. It has electric start with kick start as backup. The condition is excellent and you would mistake it for a 2yr old bike if the number plate wasn't on. It is obviously currently on sorn but a new mot will come with the bike. This bike is ideal for commuting or a learner over 17yrs.
