1-2-1 Saxophone Lessons with an experienced musician, London

Location London, London https://www.freeadsz.co.uk/x-218236-z

I am a London based Saxophonist. I fell in love with saxophone at the age of 9. In 2004 I graduated with a Bachelor's Degree in contemporary music. I have been working as a professional musician for 15 years. I have been performing as a soloist (classical, jazz, pop, house, music), as well as part of ensembles, orchestras and bands. I have more than 10 year experience in teaching saxophone to all ages and abilities. I always ensure the best possible results, my lessons are tailored to the individual needs of each student. I try to make lessons very simple with a fun loving approach. The right material and methods are chosen for each student to progress and develop quickly and easily. Lessons are one to one basis, and takes 1 hour. I will start teaching you how to play your first note and then you will end up to study some very sophisticated exercises and pieces. I know that buy a saxophone if you are not sure to take on this career is expensive so I can suggest you a relatively low cost way of trying a brand new sax at home for the first months and then if you feel confident with your instrument you can decide to buy it. If you are either an adult approaching to learning an instrument or a father proud to see your kid playing saxophone just get in touch. My tuition rate for an hour is £.
