Have a dog or know someone who does? We are seeking dogs and their owners from East Sussex to take part in a new scientific study on dog play behaviour. We are looking for people who can spare a little time to play a game of tug-of-war with their dog, which will help us understand the way that dogs play. The project offers an exciting opportunity to expand our knowledge about how our dogs interact with us and the evolution of social behaviour. A scientific paper based on the study will be submitted to a top academic journal on animal behaviour. Volunteers will gain entry to a £50 prize draw. To your dog it will just be fun!
