Selling one of my chinchilla's as he's the only boy in the litter and he's coming to the age to be separated from his sisters. Unfortunately I don't have the space for another cage otherwise I would keep him. He's been kept with other chinchilla's all of his life so far. He's also been around children all of his life so far as well so he's not too shy to a bit of noise! He's use to coming in and out of his cage for a run around once or twice a day. He's use to human interaction but isn't too keen on being handled by hand. I have a spare cage I can offer with him but it's a bit worse for wear so please give it a good look over to make sure it's worth having. If you want/need any more information please contact me 07415
