Dunny is a beautiful Dun Quarter horse mare. She can Walk, Trot and Canter in both directions and moves off of leg pressure. Neck reins very well and has been trained in a Bosal. She takes a bit easily but I usually do not ride in one as I prefer the Bosal. Has been on cows a few times and loves it. She has also been backed into the box and is learning to stand quietly.

Dunny has been around a barrel and would do well in that regard. I used to run barrels before I got her so we did a lot of exercises using them and if you put a barrel in the middle of the arena and drop the reins she will walk around it. She has mainly been ridden on trails and in the arena but needs a better job. She has no buck, bite or rear and has yet to meet a horse she doesn't like. Does not act badly when in season.

Easy keeper on straight grass and has never been shod due to her amazing hooves. Never coliced or had any major medical issues. Only selling because my beautiful girl needs a better job and more time than I can provide currently due to work and school. This is one of the most difficult decisions of my life but I feel it isn't fair for her to be standing around. I would love her to go to a ranch or someone who will work her on cattle.

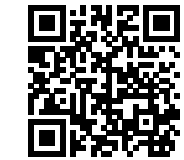

She stands for the farrier and you can easily clean all feet. Should be particularly good for anyone who has a horse and a farrier. She is only an animal and the rider has a job to do.

The areas she needs work in are:
 standing quietly in the trailer (she looks well but wants to get moving) smooth but trot and canter

I am very honest and want you to know her flaws and not have any surprises. Up to date on shots and Coggins. Just had her feet trimmed. Feel free to contact me with questions. May consider a lower price to
