I am selling my 15,3 purebred ISH Django, he is 11 years old and I got him over from Ireland with the intention of competing regularly, but due to other commitments I haven't been able to do nearly as much as anticipated. Django is an extremely safe horse, who you can take hacking anywhere, mount in an open field with shield roaming etc.. he is bombproof. I have never ridden a more brave willing horse to jump, he takes on any jump, is very careful, can turn on a sixpence and covers the ground extremely quickly. He has no affiliated record, but he has done 1 m 10 in local shows In Ireland. His schooling has also come along nicely whilst I have had him and he would do a lovely prelim dressage test. He is a wonderful horse who would suit a fun pony club home, or win with an ambitious rider looking to progress through the levels, a fabulous stepping stone after ponies. I am struggling financially with him now so am open to offers. If he doesn't sell soon, he will be registered with BS and price will increase so he really is a bargain at £.
