Poole is really a big town and every year more people come to work and live here. Very often this brings things like stress and no personal life.

Are you new to town, are you alone and feel left out from what is happening in the real world? Are you lonely? Is it difficult to find the environment where you can make new friends? Are you working so hard and don't get a chance to meet new friends? Is it all work and no play? Would you like to meet new people and become friends? Let's get together , make friends and have fun. If you desire friendship and want to be part of cultivating a stronger sense of community in Poole and Bournemouth , then please join us.
