I am not technically using the ad for an event. I'm using it to advertise my blog - The Blog of a Rambling Teenager. It is going to be a blog that will properly kick off in the new year and it is a blog discussing problems that I go through in a daily teenage life, the blog already has some posts but as I said, it will officially kick off when 2016 comes along. It is to be read for entertainment values, maybe if you're a teenager facing the same problems that I will, but over all it is for everyone to read, enjoy and for you all to get a sneak peak into the life of your average teenage girl. <https://ramblingteenager.wordpress/>
