

I am very reluctantly selling my much loved Chrysler C300. This car has been very well cared for and has had £1447 spent on it for its MOT (I have the receipts to prove the work and amount spent) only done 9 miles since then it has sat on my drive as I have been putting it off to sell work I have had carried out includes: MOT, new front brake pads, rear discs and pads, hand brake linings, upper wishbones, lower suspension arms, ABS ECU, brake sensors, caliper carrier, slider pin set ect.

has a Detachable towbar with single 12v electrics (not pulled caravans just a small trailer). I have the original set of alloys to go with the car for winter use. has a couple of light marks here and there but only to be expected for a used car. This is a genuine good honest car which I will feel sad to see go but due to change of circumstances I have to sell.

This car is a real head turner as it is also known as the Baby Bentley.
