Grey, 125 Learner Legal, 3 owners, Surprisingly for a small wheel scooter the Typhoon doesn't feel too nervous – the fat balloon-like tyres with a chunky tread pattern calm the handling compared to sportier scooters. They also deal with bumping up kerbs better, and there's enough grip to enjoy throwing the Piaggio around city streets. The front brake is effective, and the rear drum is brilliant for childish skids! The Typhoon is very light, which makes the air-cooled twist-and-go feel perky the Typhoon gets up to 30mph respectably swiftly, In many ways the Typhoon is the best option in the Piaggio 50cc range – it's just as quick, rides well, is plenty of fun and has enough practicality for most teenage buyers, yet costs less, The North West's finest family run motorcycle dealership, £1,650 no
