cheap tax £140 per year I have had this car for the past three years its been very reliable and I have travelled the length and breath of the UK and not let me down. I am selling it because of a company car but can recommend this as a first car or a reliable car to get to and from work or even a spare run around but I do strongly believe this car is not ready to retire yet and I have priced it a little more than what I would get if I did retire yet. If you would like further details please feel free to contact.
