The Chamonix ski suit is perfect for boys and girls alike and offers excellent protection against the elements when they head up the hill for some skiing or snowboarding. Designed with both our Tres-Tex and Coldheat technology, this jacket has a rating of TP75. Layers of padding in both the jacket and ski pants will absorb excess heat generated as the wearer keeps active and uses it to create a pocket of warmth around their body. Further, with a waterproof shell up to 3,000mm, this jacket has taped seams to lock moisture out, is windproof and has a breathability rating of 3,000mvp to keep them fresh inside. Giving all this protection is one thing, but this set still allows free movement and flexibility for an excellent performance on the slopes. The jacket has a hood that is fully adjustable and can be zipped off for a streamlined design that is perfect for use with helmets. The jacket has two zip pockets for storing all your kit and the cuffs, hem and hood are all adjustable so they can tailor the fit. The trousers reach up to the chest for full protection against the snow and have adjustable clip straps for security. The waist is elasticated, kick panels give added durability and the articulated knees give extra freedom of movement. The ankles have a double layer and gaiters that keep snow out and give a snug fit with their ski boots. This set comes in four colours for you to pick their favourite and with this on they'll be ready to hit the slopes for loads of fun this.
