This is my all original, excellent condition, fully functioning Yamaha QY700 Sequencer and Sound Module. I'm selling because it is getting used less and less as I gravitate to a modular setup. The case is free from wear but being picky I could say it has tiny amount of wear on the left front corner.

This thing just works with zero fuss but with tones of control and features. Turn it on and in a second it's ready to go. Unleash yourself from the computer.

Included is a custom made double sided quilted cover.

Check out ukdotyamahadotcom, search for QY700 for full specifications and features.

The QY700 is a high-end Sequencer Workstation released in the mid to late '90's. It's an all-in-one sequencer with a built-in synthesizer, effects, MIDI and tons of memory! The QY700 makes an excellent alternative to computer-based MIDI studios; the QY700 has the power to be the heart of your MIDI studio.

At it's core, it is a programmable MIDI sequencer. It can store up to 110,000 notes, 48 Tracks (32 Linear, 16 Pattern) and 20 Songs. A built-in 3.5 inch disk drive provides external storage. The sequencer has 64 notes of polyphony which is usually more than enough. The sequencer allows recording in Step, Punch-In, and Realtime with overdubbing features. The tempo can range from 5 to 300 bpm and the Conductor Track is very flexible. Thankfully a fairly large 320 x 240 backlit LCD screen makes entry and editing very easy to see and use.

The control interface is superb. The QY700 has a 16-bit Yamaha DX7 engine inbuilt. A 2MB of advanced waveform memory - as well as Yamaha's XF format and good old General MIDI. It also has an impressive selection of built-in digital sounds ready to use! You can choose 4,000 of bass, guitar, and synth sounds. There's even a library of Phrases like intro, fill and ending patterns that you can use. These phrases are highly tweakable and can be made all your own. There's also a drum memory and plenty of built-in effects to use on the internal sounds as well. The QY700 even has a pseudo 62 octave keyboard and assignable mini Pitch/Mod wheels and programmable foot switches for start, stop, fill, etc. 2 midi out and midi in.
