This is a good example of a GPO 332F. The handset is dated 1958. It has been stripped down and rebuilt after each part has been cleaned and polished. The dial has also been rebuilt and the contacts cleaned and tested. Then set up on a special line simulator to allow to work on both BT and cable networks. I have fitted an electronic microphone, a GPO specification round plastic line in cord with a UK telephone plug socket and a very best quality all British manufactured hand plaited braided handset cord to bring the speech quality up to modern standards. It has a genuine GPO No 12 number only dial face.;
