Ideal for garage work shop

The Draper 13828 flexible camera is an ingenious handheld video device that is ideal for remotely inspecting areas that are inaccessible to the naked eye, such as the narrow, dark interiors of pipes and engine bays. The unit has a 2.4-inch TFT colour LCD viewing monitor as well as a compact water-resistant camera head that is only 10 mm in diameter, enabling it to access very confined areas. The head is fitted with high-power LED lamps, the brightness level of which can be increased and decreased from the handset, ensuring images are clear and glare free. In addition, the lens has a wide 60-degree field of view angle and can view objects at a distance of 30-60 mm. These features provide unsurpassable visibility.
