I have 2 beautiful blue eyed ragdoll kittens for sale, they are 12 weeks old, they have been fully vet checked, had their first vaccination, been microchipped, wormed, flea treated and they come with their very own vet passport with all of their information in there i also give you some food to get you started and an information pack to help you settle your new baby at your home. They have been very well socialised and most importantly litter trained. They have the run of the house as i don't believe they can be properly socialised if they are in a cage. They all have great personalities and are very cheeky and playful. Ragdolls adjust well being around dogs and more often than not will become life long.
