Purebred marten sable doe rabbit is available for her forever home now. She is 6 months old and is BRC rung, I have her parents and some of her other relatives here. Sables are an old breed of rabbit and were created for their incredibly soft and dense fur, she is not a dwarf or lop that can be sable in colour. They come in two coat patterns - marten and siamese. Sable rabbits are a medium-sized breed, weighing around 3kg when fully grown. She will need a large hutch and run, or could live inside as a house rabbit. She will be supplied with food, a care sheet and any advice you may need. Please contact me for more information or visit my website www.englishrabbit.org.uk or facebook page 'English rabbits'.

I have been keeping rabbits for many years and am a member of the British Rabbit Council and the Rabbit Welfare Association and occasionally have young Sable and English rabbits available to forever.
