Developed by renowned French designer, David Turpin, the MoshiMoshi02 combines classic function and contemporary design to create a high style handset for use with all 3.5mm jack mobile phones and computers, including iPhone, BlackBerry, MacBook and iPad (compatible with all phones and computers when fitted with the proper adaptor - sold separately). Finished in a luxurious black soft-touch or white high-gloss texture, the handset features a high quality speaker and microphone to ensure a crisp and polished sound. The MM02 handset transforms any mobile phone or computer into a comfortable stationary environment, making the use of your mobile phone at home or work more convenient. Additionally, the device can be used for VOIP computer calls, including Skype, Google Talk, etc., making the handset the ultimate communication and business tool. The MM02 is also supplied with a weighted base for the handset and a silicon mat designed to protect the mobile phone from wear and tear. **Using the MM02 eliminates 99% of mobile phone radiations. Native Union developed the MoshiMoshi Handset line with the intention of transforming non-mobile conversations that take place on a mobile phone into a comfortable new and improved talking experience ;
