My C2 Design was purchased for my 18th birthday in 2008, at 3 years old with 13,600 miles on the clock, serviced up until this point by the main dealer. It was used for city driving mainly travelling to college and university for the first two and a half years. I then got a job up North and was travelling from Birmingham to Blackburn once a week, this is when the miles per year was highest for obvious reasons. After graduating university I got a new job and included in the package was a company car allowance and therefore I no longer needed the car. At this point my brother brought the car from me and used it for mainly city driving again for 2 years. Since July 2013 the car has only covered approximately 12,000 miles.

Since purchasing the car in 2008 it has been serviced regularly by my dad; new oil, new filter, new break pads; new spark plugs, new air filter.

The car is in very good condition, much better than average, and has been looked after well by us all.

The car will be sold as seen, tried and tested.

I am selling this car on behalf of my brother and it is also advertised else.
