Black, Style. Innovation. The perfect fusion of beauty and function. The integration of sophisticated design and Honda renowned engineering. These are the qualities that are deeply embedded in the allnew VFR1200F. This is a motorcycle like no other. In pursuit of heightened levels of control and feedback it adopts the latest racetrack bred technologies, but adapted and evolved to create a machine that can be many things to many riders. The harmonic growl of the flexible and responsive V4 motor may rekindle the emotions inspired by previous iconic VFRs, but its unique heartbeat engine feel and an unrivalled level of manageability set the new VFR apart, not only from its forbears but also from every bike currently available.
