Hi there... I'm looking to sell my Apple IMac to fund my travels, it is a 2013 model, but top of the range for that year.. It has both wireless keyboard and mouse and the Magic Trackpad and disc drive! All have boxes as does the main unit itself. It's in perfect working order and III wipe it clean of all my data. It's doesn't have any specialist software I.e apples own photo programs or apple equivalent of word etc, but still I'm looking to sell it to fund my travels and as much as I'll be gutted to see it go, but it will be worth it in the end. It's a useful addition to anyone and looks the part. If you would be interested and would like to see it give me a call on:
