This Technics SL1210 MKII is in near pristine condition. I actually own a pair of these beauties, however I am not sure whether to part with both. The turntable is like new because it has had very little use. The deck has been stored in a flightcase in a loft as a spare unit. It had a deck plate installed, which is another reason why it's in such good condition. All the lights/led's work perfectly, as do the buttons which show zero wear and tear. The turntable platter is absolutely immaculate and the pitch sliders are nice and tight like a brand new unit. It comes with the original Technics headshell and the Stanton 500 cartridge and stylus. The lids in great condition too, expect for a few surface scratches which is to be expected. The turntable also boasts it's original wires and moulded plug. Please feel free to phone or inbox me if you need to know anything.
