P.A.T-4-U is a small family run business providing a friendly and efficient competitive service across the south coast. Les Milne is both the senior engineer and one of the directors, with a background as a Royal Marine, Police Officer, Fire officer and maintenance engineer before becoming a PAT testing engineer in 2006 for a national company. Unfortunately the company stopped trading with no notice to staff; resulting in Les establishing his own business PAT-4-U. We recognise the importance of our customers feeling secure which is why all of our engineers have an enhanced DBS, City & Guild training, wear a PAT-4-U uniform and have photo.
