VW TRANSPORTER MOTOR HOME

Model - CELESTE

2 Berth

Colour - Indian Blue

Originally fitted out by Bilbos in August 1991, vehicle has spent its entire life as a motor home.

I am the second owner having acuiired the vehicle in 2013.

I have a complete history log for the vehicle which is in very nice condition for it age, three sets of keys, the interior is still original although I have got seat covers currently on the two front seats to offer protection from wear. The vehicle has covered approx 205000 miles and still runs very well being good on fuel (Diesel) and pretty comfy for long journeys. It comes with front captain seats which swivel to face the rear, there is a removable table, rear bench seat with two lap belts, the seat back folds down forming the rear double bed. There is a Gas/12v electric fridge with small freezer compartment, electrical hook up. Integrated sink unit with eletric cold water tap. Water tank is located under the vehicle and is filled via external filler flap on side of van. Integrated gas cooker with grill. Plenty of storage space in side units, under the rear seat and rear wardrobe. Fully fitted curtains on rails.

The vehicle is pretty much stock free, there is no roof rack, no door but it has a minor. The front windows are sealed in 2013, four tyres were replaced only a short time ago and the vehicle has a new battery. The only modification has been in the rear suspension to give the van a better profile, and have the rear windows tinted. This was completed when I first purchased the van. I also had the front windscreen replaced in 2013 as it had a stone chip which had developed into a crack.

The vehicle is currently sorn as was layed up over the winter period, only travelled approximately 2k miles in previous year.

The current MOT is valid till 28 August 2016 and meter reading at time was 203882 with no advisory notes.
