About me:

I am 29 years old, graduated in Business Management and have a second degree in International Relationships and Political Science. Over 7 years of experience in Sales including two years as a General Manager of the sales department and business owner for over 2 years. After I moved to London I spent over 3 years developing my digital marketing and online sales skills.

I won't charge you a penny if you won't be satisfied with my service but it is not going to.
