2001 Audi A4, 1.8T Sport, manual, 123k, mot until August 22 2016

Factory fitted Sports suspension Pack, 35 mm lower than a standard A4, De-badged and chrome blacked on the front. Car performs well for it age
Charcoal Grey Sports Interior, Cruise control
For the age the car it is very tidy, it does have the obligatory stone chips and the odd minor ding but when polished it does look pretty good as the pictures reflect.
The interior is also very tidy for the age, no rips or tears in the cloth seat and the driver side bolster is still in good condition. Odometer is also fully functioning without the common fault of whole lines of pixels not working on the read out.

The car has history up to around 75k, from then until around 100k when I bought it there was no history. From 100k until the 123K on the clock I have done all work on the car personally as I have use of a good friends garage.

Since owning the car the following has been done. Brake pads and disc on all 4 corners replaced Brake cylinders serviced Master Brake servo replaced Full brake fluid flush and replacement Thermostat and both coolant temperature sensors replaced Water Pump Replaced At least 3 coolant flushes Sump removed and cleaned out Dipstick holder and Dipstick replaced Vacuum System and EGR removed and cleaned Battery Replacement, less than 3 month in the car Recent rocker cover gasket replacement

It took me 3 month to find an A4 in this colour combination, with the sports pack in manual with the Turbo and the 4 wheel control. I had to see a lot of things but I have just bought the wagon which was the good one for my use. Viewing and test drive welcome, message me too.
