I have been designing, building and authoring websites for more than 12 years and can use my wealth of experience on the web to advise the best solution for your requirements. I only charge you for the features that you require and offer a pricing structure with an affordable base price and optional extras. My base price is £100 for a 5-page standard website including 1 year web hosting, domain name and email address. Additional features such as extra pages, image galleries, contact forms, locations maps etc. are individually and affordably priced. I can update your existing design to a responsive design to meet Google's latest standards or suggest design improvements to improve functionality. If you are too busy to look after your website I am able to offer a website updating service. I am also able to install and configure ECommerce and WordPress platforms.
