800 miles from Scotland through the Lake District not missed a beat. This motorhome has an automatic gearbox, consequently very relaxing to drive, allowing you to take in the scenery, personally find with the manual you're constantly fighting the gear changes, extremely easy to drive. It's had a fresh Mot As with all vans of this age, a little surface rust or early signs of rust is to be expected, I could have left it as is, however it was my intention to keep the van and wanted it to be perfect, hence I had all surface rust removed and freshly painted panels that were affected, the wheel arches on all transit vans no matter what the mileage are known for rusting, this van had all 4 replaced a few years ago, all 4 are in perfect condition. The van it comfortably sleeps 3, we are family of 4, Ive slept in the back along the kitchen area in a sleeping back, whilst the other 3 used the bed area. Think of the summer holiday, festivals coming up, what a way to travel, no plane tickets, hotel bills or timetables. Just the open road and miles of fun and frolics! In short a great Motorhome that has had both time and money recently spent, it is ready to enjoy....Overall it's a great van with huge spec....im not asking 13500 plus, asking price is set at a realistic amount 9600 Reason for sale, if you come and see this motorhome you will see im in the middle of building a new house, my work contract hasn't been renewed, I have builders to pay in the come weeks. Camper is advertised on other sites, hence could be sold. Cheapest Duetto on the market. Many Thanks For Your
