Are you looking to start learning to play guitar? Are you already a guitarist but you're feeling a tad stuck and you're looking for a new direction to take your playing? My name's Huw, a friendly and reliable guitar tutor. I have been a guitarist for over 10 years and have gained plenty of live performance, studio and teaching experience over this time. Having recently graduated from The British and Irish Institute of Modern Music (BIMM) with a degree in Professional Musicianship I have developed a diverse range of skills and abilities in both guitar and teaching. Before studying at BIMM, I gained my first music qualification, a Level 3 Performing Musician Diploma, from Access to Music (ATM). After I graduated from BIMM, I returned to ATM as a volunteer teaching assistant, working with a large group of students, applying my knowledge of performance, technique and theory in a contemporary rock and pop style. I am offering a home visit service for beginner to intermediate guitarists of all ages. I am able to teach a range of styles tailored to each student. Whether you want to learn your favourite songs, work on some technical exercises to improve your soloing and anything in between! The first 30 minutes are absolutely free! This includes an introductory chat prior to the lesson, to discuss any queries you may have, and so I can find out what you'd like to learn and how you'd like to learn. This will enable me to structure lessons tailored specifically to you! Lesson prices: £12 for 30 minutes

£20 for 60 minutes I am based in Haywards Heath and cover all surrounding areas (Burgess Hill, Hassocks, Hurstpierpoint, etc). I am more than happy to travel further but pricing will increase outside of the local area (prices would be discussed after the first free session). Don't hesitate to get in touch and book your first lesson! Thanks,
