AZ Autos present this wonderful 2012 Lexus CT200 Se-L CVT in metallic Black. Lexus is very proud to point out that the CT 200h is the world's first 'full hybrid' to be launched in the premium hatchback market. The 'quiet revolution' as it calls it. The Japanese firm has taken the technology used in the Toyota Prius and applied it to a hatchback. It's powered by a 1.8-litre VVT-i petrol engine alongside an electric motor. The hybrid system is incredibly clever and can operate in petrol and electric modes alone as well as a combination of both. As a result it's incredibly efficient and according to the official figures it can average 68.9mpg with CO2 emissions of just 94g/km. The CT 200h is most at home in the city. It's very refined at low speeds and thanks to the fact it can run purely on electric motor up to 25mph it's very quiet too. The torque is available from a standstill too which makes for effortless performance away from the lights but with no noise. It's all very impressive and every inch the luxury hatchback Lexus claims.
