Due to health issues forcing retirement I have a number of horses for sale prices start at £1750 they are only for sale to the right home ----- I have no wish to offend any person interested in considering owning one of my horses but I do hope you understand, --- my horses are my children having mainly been created or greatly influenced by me, they have little fear and are not dangerous, they have never been knocked about -- whipped -- or abused, and do not understand ignorance or lack of confidence, when I am asked "how much" I have to ask the enquirer what they are looking for and how much they wish to spend, this is to ascertain their knowledge and possible ability to take care and become a "partner" to one of my "children" also the suitability of the animal in question to fulfil the enquirers needs the partnership I have built up with the DADDY of them all is as follows :- thank God The President utterly looks after me --- He keeps me in the saddle, bucks very gently when he's feeling good, and if I do become insecure he will find a way of putting me back where I should be, you would think this is not possible but its true, in 12 years I have come off him once only and he was mortified !!! I do hope you understand and if still interested if you can answer my questions I will certainly do my best to answer yours, much as I have to reduce my stock I care very much who may be caring for them !!!
